Got Hoggas here

Antigua long and low, scarcely visible from Portola, a mile or all but Bregada rises to considerable heights in the misty morning dish. The unrulyness of the sea was never apparent in Portola, sheltered bays but here it was open roadstead amid tchiform reefs and all shallow water. Fortunately the wind blows. It would blow you out to sea if the anchor dragged. Beautiful steep beaches though clear clean sand quite in contrast to the rocks of Nova Ed. and of Mosquito Ed. In fact Bregada is one long low sand spit with sparse vegetation.

beaches had a queer trough or arrow just below waters edge.

Over side good fishing; but sharks frequented the off line, but the hook (had we got shark last night) rigged by the offshore line.

At St. Martin 11:00 a.m.

The Plankton haul (E.L.) tonight at Road Bay, Anguilla is real plentiful—rather a thick broth with plenty of body—mysids, larval fish, zoopods, and undoubtedly vegetable debris. And many diatoms.

Usual haul (in days) I did to think about just one could not begin to hold the mess. If "natural" we got over the side here at anchor in 3½ hours.

Mr. Boritz (over)
Capt. introduced me to Louis A. Burt, Keith "Algro" Yacht Repair. I'd whom we took out to his keel with repair man.

Said he had eaten plate of soup and steak (good sized) of barracuda and it's far more than he had caught off St. John (3. side?) and that that evening he had loose bowel 6-7 times and right felt rotten lost all sense of feeling in legs by 5-7 am (hand & arms felt funny) at seven fell off his unconscious accident and was taken in stretcher to St. Thomas hospital for an operating table when he realized he must communicate with Dr. & snapped out of his coma (+) and said (cried) fish poison.

And number of intravenous & blood transfusions 1st 40hs will get hospital record with proper letters from us.

My friend H.C. did his best to help our family. He helped with the medical care. He suggested that we get the advice of a doctor who got U.S. training. He did not think it would work.

Dr. Heath, Queens U., Belfast knew of Aoka the kind hearted, first conservator of his. He bade me in our conversation of him. I was just lucky having reviewed Skelgill here at St. Kitts. We went to Edinburgh, where Paris went with Thompson and Heath knew of St. Kitts. We went to the University of St. Andrews where we met with the bacteriologist and advised me to get an autogenous vaccine for my streptococcus.

Apr. 25 - I hope cave will be finished under business.

Went to horses at 10.30 a.m. after breakfast.

First called on Post master and others; ordered horses for Dark Cave had to wait till 12.15 for them, about 2 hr. Wait while I step on concrete porch. When horses came up we had to wait for coffee & cheese we ordered. Well at 12.30 we got started. 2 guides & bunch of enhancers carried men of our party by hand all walking 8 miles rough rocks, terrain, mud, & acacia cactus. By 7 p.m. we had 32 miles, 8 m.p.h. Should have had 25 m.p.h. What sorts we were, only.

To cave was part of April 26th. It seemed as though horses hadn't been cleaned or trimmed. My poor lower legs ankles and shins were so sore it wasn't funny. Spelling done at 12 midnight getter & back to first Darker ten brands. Cave later almost stagnant pool had little black shells. Our stomachs discovered goat green mould & rocks.

Poor horses, heavy load, Desmond says 2 Brevet usual charge should be $1.25.

See curd calculations. Got home at dark had sardines, bread & sour dinner & pineapple juice.

It was a real adventure to go in a pressy Shuster Galapagos scenery ponies dumb horses, rope harness, still suited saddles as in Brazil wish I had walked and indeed Carl ended up hurt may be rocks were heavy part of our gear but we got no fish. I guess all day I made up some shrimp made up for it. Carl got so sad after getting nothing all day. Maybe it nibbled barra auda in supper ripe bananas locally.

Potions & feel that Bob Clarke with not experience got a shrimp. Hope Desmond got more than paid for this even.
